
Summer Employment Information

Jameson Camp serves youth between the ages of 7 and 17. Many of these youth could be considered to be 'at-risk' or 'disadvantaged'. Our campers can be referred for minor social and emotional needs ranging from low self-esteem and minor behavior problems to needing a positive role model or a break from a chaotic home life. If you would like to spend this summer providing a fun, positive experience for children of all ages and backgrounds, then consider one of the positions in the Job Listings.

From our summer staff...

“I feel like there is an atmosphere here that allowed me to be myself more than anywhere else. After working here for two summers, I feel like I’ve set a precedent for my future career...”

“I wish I could take the kids home with me, but I got memories to last to next year.”

“I thought it would be relaxing and fun all summer. I did have fun, but I didn’t relax. This job is so involved emotionally and physically. It was quite the learning experience and my best summer yet.”

“I became much more adapt at dealing with children. I learned how to earn their respect and have fun with them at the same time. I learned how to deal with people from different situations.”

“This experience has been humbling, amazing, eye-opening, and so much more.”

Goals

Each of our programs is packed full of fun activities to create a memorable experience for each child. Jameson's programs are developed to offer a progression of experiences that foster:

- Responsibility – developing leadership skills and being accountable for one's own behavior
- Improved decision-making skills – thinking for one's self and making appropriate choices
- Positive self-concept and increased self-esteem – recognizing and appreciating personal strengths, talents and values
- Interpersonal skills and citizenship – making friends and respecting the rights of others
- Environmental concern – appreciating one's natural surroundings
